

August 11, 2006

10 great places built for making a splash

Looking for a cool dip before the summer is out? No, we mean really, really cool. Jason Harper, a luxury travel trend-watcher for more than a decade and now executive editor of concierge.com, a website affiliated with Condé Nast Traveler, directs Ron Schoolmeester for USA TODAY to hotels nationwide with the hippest swimming pools.

Hotel Gansevoort

New York City

The 45-foot roof deck pool with 360-degree views has become the place that defines the Meatpacking District, the hottest neighborhood in the city. "A see-and-be-seen setting," Harper says. "During the day, bathing beauties take advantage of the free paperbacks and the DJ music piped underwater." 877-426-7386; hotelgansevoort.com